

FROM NO WAY TO HIGH WAY

Approximately, two years ago, I received my degree in Civil Engineering and a MSc in Project Management. I started to look for a job however, I was unable to secure one. Every time I applied the refusal feedback was always the same. I did not have any practical experience. I put my trust in God for a job and kept on praying although I was discouraged.

In 2018, I started working as a construction labourer. I faced a lot of humiliation and was very discouraged. The pay was low and I constantly struggled with wanting to leave. I thank God for my wife and her encouragement that kept me going.

I eventually became a construction ground worker. My new boss was always complaining and had no patience as he did not want to show me how things worked.

After the International Gathering of Champions (IGOC), I began working with a new engineer and as God would have it, he was a young man from Zimbabwe, who had been my fellowship president at University. When I saw him, we greeted each other and I explained my situation. He embraced me and said "Don't worry I will help you." God had sent a divine helper. They young man spoke to the project manager and I became my friend's chainman. He started showing me everything I needed to know. He also gave me a lot of encouragement and helped me to apply for jobs.

After a few months, when the project we were working on was about to come to an end, I was made redundant. However, during the 2019 Spring Bible Conference, Pastor Korede Komaiya spoke on 'Audacity.' That message unlocked something within me and I updated my CV and uploaded it on lots of job sites.

To the glory of God, after IGOC 2019, I received a call from an agency for me to be part of one of biggest highway jobs in the UK with fantastic pay. The Lord has been so good to me and I thank Him for what He has done in my life. Praise the Lord.

MIRACLES HEALINGS & BREAKTHROUGHS TESTIMONIES

FEBRUARY 2020

In June 2019, my 98 year old grandma fell ill in Zambia. She had never been sick before so I knew I had to travel and be with her as God kept prompting me to go and witness to her. My grandma was religious but not saved. I spent three weeks at her bedside. She accepted Jesus and died two days later. She was the first of her generation to receive Christ. Glory be to Jesus.

A day after I returned to London, I experienced pain in my chest. I was rushed to hospital as I could not breathe. At the hospital I was told that I had angina.

I have always been healthy and never taken medication. During that week, I nearly had a heart attack. The cardiologist kept saying "You are one lucky woman. Many people end up on my table battling for their life." I looked at him and said "I'm not lucky, I have Jesus."

I had an operation and had a stent implanted in my left artery. I was told that I was a type 2 diabetic with high blood pressure and extremely high cholesterol. I was given eight different tablets to take on a daily basis. One day, I looked at the cardiologist and I thought to myself "The devil is a liar. I know this is because of what I went to do with my grandmother."

I began to pray and decree the Word over my body. When I attended my next appointment the doctors were shocked as everything was back to normal. Glory to God. Thank you Pastor Matthew and Pastor Yemisi for teaching us the undiluted Word of God.

who came with me tried to calm me down but I even scratched them. When I was called, I was given more pain medication and told that I had an infection.

The Chief Consultant informed me that everything would be OK and that he would arrange for a radiologist to drain the incision. However, if the draining did not work another surgery would be scheduled. I was transferred to await the radiologist. When they arrived he said I was lucky but I said in my mind, 'It is not luck but the God I serve.' The surgeons were not satisfied and they did a second surgery to wash the infection out. I was finally discharged after 6 weeks, but was diagnosed with so many complications, including fibromyalgia (always in pain). I returned to Bible school and I thank God the Dean was praying for me as it

In 2015, I had a dream someone was injecting my stomach. I prayed, uprooted and cancelled that dream. Time passed and I attended an appointment for a smear test. Shortly before the test I started experiencing stomach pain. I thought it was just a normal stomach ache, so I attended work as normal but on the third day the pain gradually increased and eventually became constant.

I took some pain killers but the pain did not go. It was quite severe at this point. I asked my employer for permission to go home.

The next day I rushed to my GP. A nurse came to examine me and called in the doctor because she suspected that I had appendicitis. The doctor gave me a note and told me to go immediately to the hospital. When I handed over the note at the hospital, I was examined, given pain medication and prepared for surgery.

After surgery, when I opened my eyes, I was on a ward. The next day the consultant came to inform me that when they had gone to do the surgery they did not find anything. I was discharged but when I got home the pain started again. I was up all night so I called an ambulance. At A & E, I suffered with a lot of pain during the long waiting time. The friends was a challenge to cope with the workload but the Lord saw me through.

Eventually, I realised that the nurse had incorrectly carried out the smear test and that triggered my appendix to burst. The doctor told me he was sorry but I thank God that I am alive. During The River and again at The Rain services, Pastor Mathew called me to the altar and while praying he pulled me out of all the problems saying "God is restoring you." I thank Pastor Matthew for allowing himself to be used by God for all of us. I bless and thank God for Pastor Yemisi. On my first day back to church I saw her and she was so motherly to me. It only makes me love her more. I don't know how many days anyone can survive with a burst appendix without dying, but God kept me going. If God is for you, no one can harm you. Praise God.

DIVINE DISCOUNT

We run a chain of childcare properties and one in particular had been rented for the last 7 years. The owners decided they wanted to sell the property for £1.2 million. My husband said "It's over 1 million, therefore, we will not buy the property."

During services, I would cry out to God knowing that Pastor Matthew has always told us that he never buys property for the full asking price. Anytime he made this statement, I would scream Amen with all of my strength.

I held on to Philippians 1:6 – "And I am certain that God, who began the good work within you, will continue his work until it is finally finished on the day when Christ Jesus returns," handing the matter over to God.

The owner had a lot of interest from prospective buyers and developers but God knew best. My husband and I brought the property for £372,000 less than half the asking price.

Thank you Pastor Matthew and Pastor Yemisi. There would be no KICC and no Word without you. I would also like to say a big thank you to Pastor Ade, Pastor Esther and Pastor Dipo for helping me remain grounded.

God bless you KICC.

JESUS KEPT US SAFE

Picture posed by model

On the Monday before the Winning Women Convention, I was in a car being driven by a faithful woman of God. As we drove along a dimly lit country road in Essex, we both perceived a worrying sight about 100 metres in the distance. A car travelling towards us was swerving violently from side to side almost as if it was being driven by someone who had lost total control of the steering wheel.

At this point, all conversation stopped as we watched the nightmarish scene being played out before us. There is no doubt that my friend driving was praying. She stopped the car as the other car hurtled directly towards us. A head-on crash seemed inevitable and in that moment I screamed "Jesus!" The other car stopped coming towards us and swerved out of our lane. We have no idea what happened to the car or the driver, but the name of Jesus is the strong tower that kept us safe.
